AWARDED
Gymophobics
THE 30 MINUTE WORKOUT
GYM OF THE YEAR 2010

Hate gyms? LOVE GYMOPHOBICS!

The four ages of Gymophobics

ONE THING that strikes visitors to Gymophobics for the first time is the incredible mixture of ages. Not only do members come in all different shapes and sizes, but they vary in age far more than in 'conventional' gyms. Whilst most members in a conventional gym are in their mid twenties, at Gymophobics the mix is much greater. More and more mothers and daughters now attend, and increasingly so are their grandmothers! Ages range from as young as twelve to members in their eighties!

And, why not? Gymophobics (people who don't like gymnasiums) come in all ages and shapes and sizes. So, what attracts people who would never go to a conventional gym? Members come up with many answers including the friendliness, the close personal attention of staff, the 'air resistance' equipment which makes exercise so easy, the fact that it takes 30 minutes and is an all female environment, the focus on weight loss and figure improvement and the fast results.

The most common answer however, is that most women find conventional gyms quite 'intimidating', but at Gymophobics they can feel quite relaxed. We surveyed members of different ages to find out what their primary goals were and the table below is a broad summary of what they told us.

Age goals

> Under 17:

Often brought along by their mothers concerned about their daughter's lack of physical activity, poor posture and early weight gain. This is also the age to build strong bones and avoid osteoporosis in later life!

> 18 to late 30s:

To achieve and maintain a great figure, weight loss.

> 40 to mid 50s:

Weight loss, speed up metabolism. Avoid muscle atrophy. Reduce the risk of cardiovascular disease.

> 55 plus:

Anti aging benefits of regular exercise. Increase energy and mobility. Sleep better. Resist osteoporosis. Avoid weight gain.

THE GYMOPHOBICS EXPERIENCE

Don't worry if you are overweight or very unfit! So too are many of our ladies when they start. There are no mirrors at Gymophobics and no lycra leotards either. Come along in loose clothing and enjoy the relaxed 'intimidation-free' environment.

Easy and friendly

Tracey is confident that Gymophobics can work for everyone. 'Whatever your weight or figure problem, we will help you achieve results. Our 'air resistance' equipment will make results easier than you ever thought possible and you will actually look forward to your visits. You will make lots of friends too. So come along and give Gymophobics a try. The results will amaze you'.

On your first visit, you will be shown around and we will answer all of your questions. We will even tell you what results you can expect and how long it will take you to achieve your ideal figure and how often you will need to attend (most ladies visit us two or three times each week for a thirty minute session). If you decide to enrol, we will book you in for an induction. This usually takes an hour and is a one to one session with a qualified instructor who has been trained at our own training academy. Thereafter, each time you come along an instructor will ensure that you know exactly what you are doing and will gradually upgrade your programme as you gain in fitness and confidence.

Amazing benefits

Every ten weeks you will be booked in for a reassessment which will show the results you have achieved. Expect to be amazed! We can sculpt your figure and ensure that inches are lost from all the right places. Your metabolism will speed up and you will burn excess fat from all over your body. You will take on a leaner, firmer appearance, your tummy will flatten and your bust will be lifted. Flabby areas around the bum, thighs and the back of the arms will disappear. Whatever your ages, you will feel great too.

Energy levels are dramatically increased within weeks of starting your Gymophobics programme and you will sleep better. Even your digestion will improve.

Looking better will raise your self esteem. You will grow to like yourself more and be able to face life with new confidence. It is no exaggeration to say that Gymophobics can change your shape and your life!

Training our staff

Ever wondered what training instructors receive? At Gymophobics we take training very seriously. That's why we are probably the only gym company in the UK to operate a full time training academy for our staff.

The gym instructors in the UK have received very little formal training. Even the NVQ qualifications offered by some colleges are little more than an introduction to the subject of programme planning and health and safety guidelines.

The Gymophobics staff training programme is designed to produce highly competent instructors with the knowledge, formal training and experience to ensure that members achieve results without the risks associated with ill advised exercise and regimes. Our training academy operates 50 weeks of the year and instructors attend for weeks at a time and go back to their own gyms to study our training manuals and DVDs and gain practical experience. During their first twelve months instructors will also attend a variety of advanced seminars at the academy and

EVER PRICES!
LIMITED PERIOD

23rd JULY 2011

take a series of ever more gruelling examinations to ensure they reach the company standards of competence.

Our training team is led by sports science graduates. Training includes anatomy, exercise physiology, nutrition, kinesiology, exercise related medical issues, weight loss and metabolism, client counselling etc. The training is ongoing and staff attend refresher seminars to top up their knowledge.

No wonder that the Gymophobics instructors are probably the best in the land and help our members achieve the kind of results which other gyms can only dream of.

Police appeal for witnesses as two die in separate weekend road crashes

Tributes paid to 'amazing' friend

A "WONDERFULLY gifted" publican was one of two drivers killed on the county's roads at the weekend.

Tributes have been paid to Robert Huntington, 32, who ran the Duke of Cumberland's Head, in Clifton.

Mr Huntington died when the green Audi A4 he was driving hit a tree on the B4031 Clifton Road, between Deddington and Clifton, at about 11.10pm on Saturday.

He was thrown from the car during the collision and was taken to the John Radcliffe Hospital in Oxford after suffering severe injuries, but died in the early hours of Sunday.

Friends on social networking site Facebook described Mr Huntington as a "colourful, unique, wonderfully gifted character".

Charlie Freeman wrote: "Mate, I am numb with sadness that you are no longer here."

"I also know and take comfort from the fact that you are in a great place right now, entertaining all the crew upstairs with your glorious anecdotes and joie de vivre."

"Such a colourful, unique, wonderfully gifted character. An amazing friend, a heart of gold, a true genius. Thanks for all the great times, it has been a great honour and a pleasure having you as a friend, a bandmate, a confidante."

"You made me laugh like crazy, amazed me with your wit, intelligence and musical brilliance."

By Sam
McGregor

"Such fun, such fun. Here's to the great times, you brought joy and good times to so many. Take good care mate, all the very best X."

Another friend Violet Von Westenholz said: "So many amazing memories. Sitting here at work at my desk looking at pics. You are gonna be missed so so much pony. I love you so much xxxx."

Caspar Schlickum wrote: "Terrible tragedy, we will miss you and your great zest for life and everyone and thing in it. RIP."

And Christabel Brudenell-Bruce said: "My darling darling Rob, so completely heartbroken. I will love you and miss you for ever. X"

In a separate crash on Sunday, a motorcyclist from Steeple Aston died after his black Kawasaki ZX was involved in a collision with a red Land Rover Discovery. He has not yet been formally identified. The crash happened near Barford St Michael, on the B4031 Iron Down Hill at 6.37pm.

The 53-year-old man was taken to Horton General Hospital in Banbury, where he later died.

The road was closed for almost six hours while a collision investigation was carried out.

PC Michael Barrett is appealing for witnesses.

He said: "The Land Rover was with three other 4x4 vehicles and the motorcycle was with two other bikes at the time of the collision."

Anyone with information should contact police on 08458 505505 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555111.

Doctor committed suicide with own scalpel

A WORLD-renowned doctor killed himself with his own scalpel, just hours after being arrested over claims he sexually molested a woman colleague at a hospital.

Professor Robert Davies, who worked at the Churchill Hospital in Oxford, lay in the back of his daughter's car and deliberately sliced through an artery so that he would bleed to death.

Just 24 hours earlier police had made a surprise late evening visit to his Oxfordshire home and led him away for questioning about the alleged sexual assault. He was released on bail without charge, although inquiries were due to continue.

Last Thursday, a coroner heard how the eminent consultant, who specialised in respiratory diseases and was described as having an 'international reputation' in medicine, used one of his own scalpels to commit suicide by cutting his groin. He was found slumped in the back footwell by passers-by who noticed the car parked at an odd angle, with its front wheels in a ditch.

Prof Davies, 49, had recently returned home to Lower Heyford, after a work-related visit to Vancouver in Canada. His widow, Penny, told the Oxfordshire coroner Nicholas Gardiner that her husband seemed 'quiet and subdued' after his arrest.

The inquest was told that on November 19 last year, Prof

Davies, of Mill Lane, Lower Heyford, dropped his son, Alex, in Oxford to catch the school bus. Mrs Davies said: "He said he was going to collect some things from the office and come back home," she said.

The coroner heard that Prof Davies never made the journey home, instead, driving himself to a quiet country lane near his home, where he killed himself.

The inquest was told that passer-by David Brock was with his friend, Daniel Howe, when they found Prof Davies dead in the car. They said that on first inspection they couldn't see anything inside the vehicle but on a second, look, they spotted the doctor, slumped on his back in the rear of the car.

Recording a verdict of suicide, Mr Gardiner said: "I am in no doubt that he was responsible for his own death, for which he had used a scalpel. Given his profession, he had access to these instruments and knew what the effect of this injury would be."

Turning to Mrs Davies, Mr Gardiner added: "Your husband was well known to me and was a great assistance to me on many occasions. My deepest sympathies for your loss."

Sources said that the police investigation into the complaint of sexual assault against Prof Davies was discontinued after his death.

Waley Cohens look to raise another £30,000 for Children's Hospital

Fundraising as a tonic for Tom

Tom Waley Cohen

Woman attacked

A 41-YEAR-old woman suffered a broken cheek bone, fractured eye socket and bruising during an attack in Banbury. She was attacked by a man in Portway as she walked home, between 2.30pm and 3pm on Friday, July 1.

Police, who have described the incident as 'isolated' have appealed for witnesses.

Anyone with any information about this incident should contact Det Con Joseph Stevenson on 0845 8 505 505.

Alternatively, contact the Crimestoppers charity anonymously on 0800 555 111.

By Sam McGregor

A FUNDRAISING project with a royal connection has been launched for Oxford Children's Hospital.

The Waley Cohen family – including Cheltenham Gold Cup-winning jockey Sam – has already raised more than £1m to name a ward in memory of Tom Waley Cohen, who died in 2004, aged 19.

Now his older brother, Marcus Waley Cohen, hopes to raise another £30,000 for specialist equipment and to help quell youngsters' nerves as they wait for surgery. The entrepreneur is using his natural energy drinks company Firefly Tonics to raise the cash.

He said: "As a family we really wanted to raise money in Tom's memory and to help the Oxford Children's Hospital to create a world-class centre for other sick children."

Tom, from Edgehill, was diagnosed with the rare bone cancer Ewing's sarcoma in his left leg at the age of ten. Tom's Ward at the unit is named in his memory.

The Firefly Tonics range has launched a new tangerine and lime flavoured drink, called Step Up, which will feature an image called KIDS created by artist Michael Craig-Martin for the atrium of the hospital. Ten pence from every £1.49 bottle sold will go towards decorating the walls connecting the children's wards with the operating theatres, and towards buying specialist medical equipment.

In 2008 Marcus's brother Sam Waley Cohen, who rode to success in January's Cheltenham Gold Cup, helped raise £50,000 for the Oxford Children's Hospital. He was helped to organise a roller disco at the Renaissance Rooms in London, by Kate Middleton, now Duchess of Cambridge.

Marcus added: "We're all very proud of our involvement in Tom's Ward and in the KIDS image project for the atrium. With the hospital we've put together a plan to transform the corridor that takes children from the wards to theatre. When it's complete, the blank hospital walls will have been transformed into an amazing visual journey that will help to distract children during this very stressful time."

"We hope this will be the first of many projects we can work with the hospital on."

Andrew House, head of major gifts at the ORH, added: "This is such an innovative fundraising idea, which combines Marcus's passion for his business with his very genuine support of the children's hospital. Over the years Marcus and his family have raised over £1m for the children's hospital. We are incredibly grateful for all they do."

Incinerator will be built at Ardley after legal challenge fails

Campaigners lose incinerator fight

By Sam McGregor

A CONTROVERSIAL incinerator will be built in Oxfordshire after campaigners lost a last-ditch attempt to halt the plan.

The incinerator at Ardley could now be up and running in three years and will be Oxfordshire's first.

The campaigners' £50,000 legal bid to block the incinerator was thrown out by the High Court. The group was also landed with the Government's £10,000 legal bill.

Members of Ardley Against the Incinerator (AAI) said they were 'gutted'.

Residents and local businesses raised thousands to take Secretary of State Eric Pickles to the appeal court over his decision to allow waste firm Viridor to build the 300,000 tonne incinerator at Ardley.

They had asked the London court to quash Mr Pickles' decision and order the Secretary of State to reconsider the matter.

The group claimed the proposed incinerator was much bigger than needed to meet Oxfordshire's needs, would be an eyesore in the countryside and would have emissions which could damage human and animal health. They argued the Secretary of State was wrong in law in granting permission to operator Viridor Waste Management.

But Deputy Judge Howell QC ruled Mr Pickles was entitled to grant permission and said there were 'fundamental defects' in the campaigners' case.

AAI chairman Jon O'Neill said: "Today was not the decision we wanted, but that's part of the risk of going to court. We are pleased we were able to get there and were able to push this as far as we could."

He said the group would consider its options.

Mr O'Neill said the £10,000 legal costs had already been lodged with the court.

Oxfordshire County Council, which says the burner is needed to avoid hefty landfill taxes, welcomed the court's 'common sense' decision. Its cabinet member for growth and infrastructure, Lorraine Lindsay-Gale, said: "We hope that Ardley Against the Incinerator will now accept this decision and not cause any further unnecessary delay and expense."

Jon O'Neill of AAI

She said it had been a matter of 'strong public interest' that the issue had been resolved as quickly as possible so the project could move forward.

Viridor's project manager Robert Ryan said: "We are pleased with the judgement and look forward to progressing the project."

In his judgement, Deputy Judge Howell QC said: "The Secretary of State had made a clear finding that in his view human health would not be endangered and the environment would not be harmed."

The group can take the decision to the Court of Appeal, but it is an expensive process.

Viridor said once a notice to proceed had been issued by the county council it would start the project. The waste firm hopes to open the incinerator in 2014.

First county primary school to achieve academy status

Dashwood paves the way

By Liam Sloan

FOUR Oxfordshire schools with more than 4,500 pupils between them have been given the go-ahead to convert to academies as early as September.

If all agree funding arrangements with the Department for Education (DfE), it would more than double the number of academies in the county.

The Banbury Dashwood Schools Federation, which is made up of the 1,440-pupil Banbury School and 200-pupil Dashwood School, has won Government backing to become an academy, making Dashwood the first primary school in Oxfordshire to get the status.

The DfE has also backed 1,500-pupil Wallingford School and 1,800-pupil King Alfred's in Wantage, to convert.

Academies are free from local authority control and are funded directly by Whitehall, giving headteachers far more control over their budget, staff and curriculum.

All four schools will fix final conversion dates once they have agreed funding arrangements with the DfE, but are aiming to become academies by September.

Banbury and Dashwood schools became formerly federated with a single board of governors and executive head in September 2009, already credited with improving leadership and management.

Executive head Fiona Hammans said academy status gave even more autonomy and independence.

She said: "We are in the north of the county and long way from county council offices.

"Whilst we have no bugbear with the local authority, this is about us being able to make timely decisions for our pupils and students in Banbury.

"If we wanted the change the National Curriculum for a particular year group, for example, we could do it.

"We can really look at our youngsters and see what they really need. The National Curriculum has been prescribed for schools for so long, this is really exciting in giving us the freedom to think about what our youngsters should and could do."

Dashwood headteacher Vicki McLean said it could be worth up to another £50,000 a year to Dashwood in money redirected from the local authority directly to the school.

Wallingford School head Wyll Willis said: "It gives the freedom to be able to make our own decisions.

"I will not be worried about the education authority's strategic planning or some operational activity, because I will not have to engage with it if I do not want to.

"We can buy the best services we can get for our money, rather than take what is offered by one organisation."

At King Alfred's, head Simon Spiers said: "Our governors are continuing cautiously towards a conversion date of August 1.

"All the groundwork has been done but we are awaiting news of the funding agreement before we finally commit."

Oxfordshire's three existing academies – North Oxfordshire, Oxford and Oxford Spire – were all set up to replace secondary schools with low attainment.

The Coalition Government wants successful schools to convert.

Incandescent motorist takes the biscuit

Sir, Do you want to see an elderly, disabled man glow incandescent with rage? It's not a pretty sight. Just give him an £80 parking ticket and stand well back.

Last Monday, whilst visiting your town, I was parked next to a car which had been served with a parking ticket.

Its owner, a man with obvious severe mobility problems, slowly returned to his vehicle. The rest is largely unprintable. When the flames died down I established the rules for parking in Banbury had been changed, and clearly at least one person had not been informed.

"Where are the signs?" he shouted, "Where are the signs?!"

I am from Newcastle upon Tyne and I have seen some aggrieved motorists in my time, but Banbury, this takes the biscuit. What's more, I think the old guy had a point, I looked around and I couldn't see any signs either.

HARDWICK and Ruscote were "blitzed" by council cleaning staff this week. Cherwell District Council says it went "above and beyond" regular cleaning to remove litter and graffiti and tackle fly tipping and dog fouling. Lead council member for environment James Macnamara said: "Residents regularly tell us that having clean streets is at the top of their list of priorities."

"Whilst our street cleaners pay regular visits to all parts of the district, areas sometimes need a little extra attention." For information or to report a street contact customer.service@cherwell-dc.gov.uk or call 01295 221940.

According to Parliamentary disclosures, reported in The Sunday Times, Mr Baldry made the money from directorships and legal work. The Conservative was one of five MPs who earned more than £200,000, a list headed by former Prime Minister Gordon Brown.

CHILDREN'S respite charity Rosy, Respite Nursing for Oxfordshire's Sick Youngsters, raised more than £1,500 selling glow-in-the-dark wrist bands and a raffle to win a VW camper for a weekend, at last weekend's Cornbury Festival. Elizabeth Smith from Oxford was the winner.

Local chefs to the fore at national curry competition

A CURRY chef from Bicester has been named the first winner of the UK Indian Chef Competition with a spicy menu to wow the tastebuds.

Arzoo Miah, of Arzoo restaurant, in Market Square, picked up the king of the kormas crown after two hours in the kitchen at Oxford and Cherwell Valley College (OCVC).

The competition's founder, Muhammed Ali, head chef of Karma restaurant in Oxford Road, had previously won the International Indian Chef of the Year Competition in Bangladesh.

Mr Miah, pictured right, won a trophy, £500 and the right to represent the UK at the International Indian Chef of the Year Competition next year.

Four of the finalists were from Oxfordshire, including Abdul Karim, from Purple Mango in Banbury.

TWO pieces of surgical equipment were left inside a patient at an Oxfordshire hospital, it has been revealed. The tips of Johan grasping forceps, measuring 3.5cm long by 5cm wide with a thickness of 2mm, fell off.

The unnamed patient was admitted to an Oxford Radcliffe Hospitals NHS Trust hospital for a surgical procedure in January.

The trust refused to release the age and gender of the patient, what the operation was for and where it took place, on the grounds of confidentiality.

A trust spokesman said: "A small remnant of a surgical instrument was left in the patient and it was found immediately post operatively."

Theatre staff realised a small part of the instrument had broken off and was missing. The patient was taken back to theatre and has since made a full recovery. The patient has been kept fully informed about what happened."

The trust, which runs the John Radcliffe and Churchill hospitals in Oxford and Horton Hospital in Banbury, said it undertook a "full investigation".

"No staff have been disciplined following the event, however, some policies and guidelines have been amended and additional training provided."

A post-operation check-list now features a 'check of instrument integrity' and its swab policy had been amended it said.

The incident was the only 'never event' recorded in the county last year. These are 'serious, largely preventable patient safety incidents that should not occur if the available preventative measures have been implemented'.

Peter Walsh, chief executive of the Action against Medical Accidents campaign group, said: "It would appear that the trust acted entirely appropriately. Avoiding this is relatively easy by following standard checks. This one is rather unusual as it is not a 'forgotten' instrument left inside, but a faulty piece of equipment broken off."

"It is reassuring that this was identified immediately and remedial action taken."

Easier train tickets with new smartphone app

BUYING train tickets has just got easier for Chiltern Railways passengers after the rail operator launched a smartphone 'app'.

Initially, the application was for iPhone, BlackBerry, Nokia, Samsung and Sony Ericsson, but an android application is now available.

The free mobile application provides passengers with details of the cheapest prices and train times, and then delivers the ticket as a 2D barcode on the phone.

Special scanners are also placed on gates at stations to enable passengers to 'touch in' and 'touch out' of stations using their phones.

Marketing director Thomas Ableman said:

"We are proud to have developed this industry first that makes ticketing faster at a time when we're also doing the same to our trains through the work we are doing to create the Chiltern Mainline thereby reducing journey times."

To get the application text 'Chiltern' to 88600 or search the relevant app stores.

Grimsbury youngsters' teething troubles

'We won't brush this off'

By Amanda Williams

last week, it emerged some children living in the areas did not even own their own toothbrush.

Nicky Wadely, deputy head of NHS Oxfordshire's Primary Care Contracted Services, said: "This is only the tip of the iceberg."

"In terms of achievement, it is not a time when we can say we have actually achieved our goal yet by any measure of means."

"The PCT will continue to develop oral health initiatives for children as part of the dental commissioning strategy and monitoring the number of children accessing NHS dental services in Oxfordshire with the aim of improving the oral health of children and young people in Oxfordshire."

She said NHS Oxfordshire had commissioned a number of projects to improve oral health, particularly for children in deprived areas of the county, such as the OX4, which includes Blackbird Leys, and OX16, covering Grimsbury.

The teeth of more than 200 children have been painted with fluoride varnish in schools in parts of Oxford and Banbury with the highest number of missing or decayed teeth.

Over 2,000 Brushing for Life packs have been given out by health visitors to children, some of whom did not own their own toothbrush.

Meanwhile, children's centre staff have been trained to provide oral health promotion and healthy eating advice to families in the area.

According to latest figures for the county, 545 children's teeth had become so rotten it was necessary for one or more to be extracted under general anaesthetic.

Of that number, 218 of the children lived in the OX3, OX4 and OX16 postcode areas.

Susanna Pressel, who represents Oxford's Jericho and Osney wards on Oxford City Council, said she was sure the primary care trust was doing some 'wonderful work', but the figures were not good enough.

She said: "I have estimated there must be something like 27,000 children living in these areas."

"If only 46 per cent of them are seeing a dentist that is terrible."

Leys county councillor Val Smith said: "There are a lot of very young families who themselves maybe haven't had good access to dental care."

She added: "It depends on mother being responsible and taking their children to the dentist."

NHS dental care is subsidised and free for under 18s.

There are three price bands for adults.

£3 MILLION FURNITURE WAREHOUSE SELL-OFF

EVERYTHING MUST GO - NO REASONABLE OFFER REFUSED

MASSIVE FURNITURE SELL-OFF AS WAREHOUSE CLOSES

Abingdon's premier retailers, Lee Longlands and Vineys are relocating their shared regional warehouse facilities resulting in one of the largest clearances of furniture the area has ever seen.

A source advised us earlier this week that their current warehouse has been emptied of stock and it's all been relocated to the Lee Longlands and Vineys stores for a furniture sell-off event running this weekend.

Robert Lee, Managing Director at Lee Longlands, commented further yesterday 'We have over 20,000 product lines marked down this weekend and everything must go. For the last three days we've closed the stores so that millions of pounds of designer furniture stock can be marked down ready to clear.'

TOUGH TIMES FOR LOCAL BUSINESSES

As we continue to hear reports about tough retailing conditions on the high street, we asked Robert Lee if it was a slump in business that is forcing this warehouse closure.

Robert Lee responded by saying 'I don't believe any business can state that they had not been affected by the economic downturn, but we must continue to drive forward through this period if we are to continue to build our business.

Moving warehouse is part of ensuring we are managing our costs sensibly in the current economy.'

He continues by saying 'Both business have been established for over 100 years, and throughout this period we have grown steadily to establish strong stores right across the Midlands region which means that we can retain stability in our core business even through these difficult times.

GREAT VALUE FOR MONEY

We believe that the key to our success has been down to the fact that we recognise that our customers want to buy good quality products for their homes provided they represent good value for money, and that's something we've always tried hard to deliver.

The timing of this warehouse closure is unfortunate as, with the imminent arrival of our new Summer collection, we no longer have the space to continue to store last season's stock. As a result we have no alternative but to mark-down current ranges creating a fantastic opportunity for bargain hunters to purchase our stunning designer collections at unrepeatable prices. It really is not an opportunity to be missed.'

FIRST COME, FIRST SERVED

As the potential savings are so incredible it is expected that there will be long queues waiting in anticipation for the doors at Lee Longlands and Viney's Abingdon stores to be opened at 10am Saturday morning.

Robert said 'My advice would be to get there as early as possible in order to get the best choice and the best prices. There are over 20,000 product lines ready to be sold so turnover of stock will be rapid – and it really has to be a first come, first served situation if we are going to clear this stock.

Almost everything will be available straightaway for collection or an arranged delivery and we have extra staff on hand to manage the anticipated extra demand.'

FAMOUS BRANDS AT A FRACTION OF THE COST

All of the famous brands you can think of will be included in the sell-off including Stressless, Nathan, Ercol, G-Plan, Duresta, Natuzzi, Sealy, ViSpring, Tempur and Brintons.

With products ranging from sofas, chairs, dining and bedroom furniture, bed frames, mattresses, flooring, carpets and rugs – right through to mirrors, pictures and home accessories – there really will be something to whet every customer's appetite.

Robert gave us an advanced look at some of the furniture on offer and we don't think you'll be disappointed with sofas starting from just £186

Norfolk Side Board

EXCITING TIMES AHEAD

Robert finished by stating

'Over the next few weeks we'll be restocking our Abingdon stores with the latest Summer furniture and home furnishings. With items sourced from suppliers all over the globe I know our customers are going to be as excited about our new collection as we are.

As a result it's imperative that we clear this warehouse stock to make way in-store for our new stock, so no reasonable offer will be refused on any of our sell-off stock to ensure we are ready to accommodate our brand new ranges.'

MY TOWN - BICESTER & BANBURY

PRIME Minister David Cameron has said that the local high street should be at the very heart of every community, bringing people together, providing essential services and creating jobs and investment.

Shopping locally not only supports shops and businesses in your town but it also helps reduce your own carbon footprint by cutting down your journey time.

You can avoid the inconvenience of traffic queues and searching for a parking space, and by choosing to buy locally produced food you are supporting local farmers and growers as well.

Across Oxfordshire we are blessed with traditional market towns and villages that are thriving community hubs and have lots to offer.

From butchers and bakers to newsagents, gifts shops, coffee shops and small supermarkets, if you choose to shop locally you can buy everything you need to create anything from a delicious four course meal to a picnic lunch.

What better way to spend a morning than to browse your local village or town centre, pick up some local produce perhaps take a break with a coffee at your local café and then take a quick browse through a gift shop or art gallery.

Some of our local market towns also have the added benefits of museums, tourist information centres and thriving community centres that are well used by different groups and organisations.

Never has it been so important to support your local town, so next time you need to pop out for some essentials keep it short and simple by calling in on your local independent traders, shopkeepers and cafés and see what shopping locally really has to offer. If you automatically head to your nearest retail park or out of town shopping centre then set yourself a challenge to buy as much as you can as locally as possible-you may well be pleasantly surprised!

SHOPPING locally is becoming increasingly important, and smaller independent shopkeepers and businesses are relying heavily on trade from residents while they battle it out with the big retail giants and out of town trading estates.

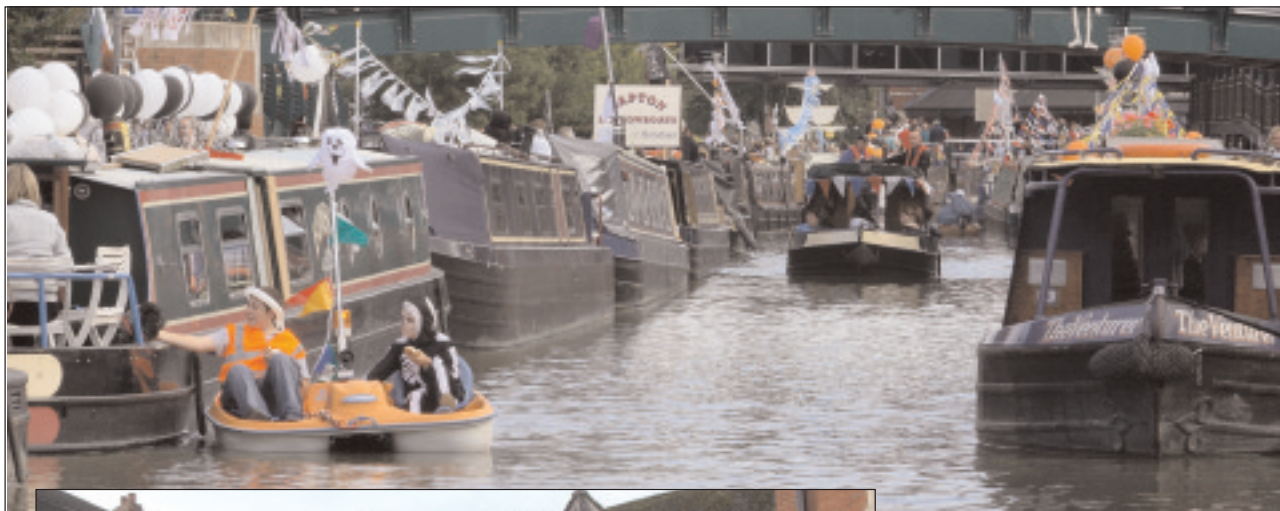

The trend to buy locally grown produce, home-baked bread and cakes and locally-reared meat continues to grow and the best way to buy locally is to make sure that we shop locally too.

As well as supporting our local towns and traders, it is also a stress-free and enjoyable way to shop for everything from a birthday card and a daily paper to the family's weekly food shopping.

The decline of our local high streets has been highlighted by Government plans to carry out a review led by retail guru Mary Portas.

She is tasked with looking at the problem of empty shops and how to prevent the increase of 'clone towns' dominated by chainstores.

She said: "I am calling on businesses, local authorities and shoppers to contribute their ideas on how we can halt this decline in its tracks and create town centres that we can all be proud of."

Small city of Ely and its beautiful cathedral Ely

Ely was for a long time informally considered to be a "city" by virtue of being the seat of a diocese. In 1974 the city status was confirmed by Royal charter on the parish council of the successor parish to Ely Urban District. With a population of 15,102 in 2001, Ely is the third smallest city in England. It is 14 miles north-northeast of Cambridge.

Why not try a day trip to Boulogne & Wimereux

Opposite La Matelote is the place to stop for a feast of epicurean proportions and after lunch you can walk it off, watching the sand yachters as they dart up and down the spacious beach or visit the fascinating 'Maison de La Beurlère' in the Rue Machicoulis, a museum of life in days gone by in the fishing community, when the house itself was a fisherman's home. Originally a small hamlet of 10 families in 1810, it was the arrival of the first train on the Paris-Calais line to Wimille-Wimereux in 1867 which signalled the beginnings of the significant growth of this community. By 1914, Wimereux had 50 Hotels and Pensions and 800 Villas. At the end of the war the development continued right up to 1920. In the 30's the English clientele fell off but they were replaced by the locals who had come to love this delightful resort.

You can also visit the cloister court and several medieval quarters. The stable courtyard added during the conversion has a nice clockhouse and a brewery. You can also visit the gardens with several large trees a rose garden and a little lake. The Abbey is also famous as a location for the Harry Potter films. CAKE Leisure

Thank you and goodbye

ALMOST ten years after the cinema release of Harry Potter and The Philosopher's Stone, the most financially successful film franchise in history reaches its tragic and spectacular conclusion. Millions of readers, who nervously turned the pages of JK Rowling's final tome in summer 2007, already know the narrative twists ahead for Harry (Daniel Radcliffe), Ron (Rupert Grint) and Hermione (Emma Watson).

There may be no dramatic tension but that's of little consequence to ardent fans because David Yates's hugely entertaining adaptation of Harry Potter and the Deathly Hallows: Part 2 bids fond farewell to characters we have grown to love, and who have literally grown up before our eyes.

Certainly, the eighth film has its giggles. The final chapter rests heavily on the shoulders of Radcliffe and, while he has improved as an actor, he still doesn't possess the emotional range or vulnerability to provide a strong emotional connection to Harry's grief. Thankfully, Radcliffe's woodenness cannot wreck one of the film's best scenes — a sombre reunion with long-lost friends in The Forbidden Forest.

Watson and Grint shine in their few scenes including that long-awaited kiss, and both sob convincingly as their teenage wizards come to terms with their loss.

The introduction of 3D and IMAX 3D for this climactic film is driven more by box office greed than creative invention. None of the Harry Potter films so far has taken more than a billion dollars at the box office. The ticket levy for 3D coupled with our nostalgia will ensure that Harry Potter and the Deathly Hallows: Part 2 becomes the most successful film of the long-running saga.

It may not be the best film of the series — that honour still belongs to Alfonso Cuarón's stunning interpretation of Harry Potter and the Prisoner of Azkaban, which plumbed the dark, foreboding undercurrents of Rowling's writing with flair. However, Deathly Hallows: Part 2 brings down the curtain in style.

The film opens with Voldemort (Ralph Fiennes) stealing the powerful Elder Wand from Dumbledore's grave, which he will use to slay Harry. Dastardly acolytes Bellatrix Lestrange (Helena Bonham Carter) and Lucius Malfoy (Jason Isaacs) press forward with their diabolical plans, while Severus Snape (Alan Rickman) fills the vacant post of headmaster at Hogwarts, which is encircled by Dementors.

Elsewhere, Harry, Ron and Hermione continue their mission to track down the final Horcruxes, which contain fragments of Voldemort's blackened soul.

The quest leads to Hogwarts where fellow students Neville Longbottom (Matthew Lewis), Luna Lovegood (Evanna Lynch) and Ginny Weasley (Bonnie Wright) are ready to lay down their lives to protect Harry from Death Eaters, including Draco Malfoy (Tom Felton) and his Slytherin sidekicks. Harry Potter and the Deathly Hallows: Part 2 builds relentlessly to the final battle at Hogwarts, which is brilliantly realised with a seamless conflation of live action and dazzling digital trickery.

There are echoes of The Battle of Helm's Deep in The Lord of the Rings: The Two Towers as the forces of darkness breach the school's walls with horrific intent.

An attempted break-in at Gringotts Wizarding Bank introduces the blind dragon which guards the Lestrange Vault and the search for Rowena Ravenclaw's lost diadem in the Room of Requirement is similarly thrilling. Aside from the central trio, the third film belongs to Lewis as heroic Neville and to Rickman's treacherous teacher, whose tragic history is revealed in a heartbreaking Pensieve flashback.

The coda, taken directly from Rowling's book, is an unintentionally hilarious misstep courtesy of unconvincing ageing make-up.

Giggles aside, there will be few dry eyes when the end credits roll.

TREASURE HUNTERS ROADSHOW IS COMING TO BANBURY!

By Bill Jones
Treasure Hunters Roadshow
STAFF WRITER

Visitors can cash in on gold, silver, coins, antiques and collectables or just about anything that is old.

Clean out your attics, cupboards, closets and jewellery boxes, because the Treasure Hunters Roadshow is coming to Banbury. Our Roadshow experts will be in town examining gold, silver, coins, antiques and collectibles.

While the Roadshow will accept anything that's old, they will be focusing on gold, silver,

"U.K. coins made before 1971 are most sought after by collectors. Some coins made before 1947 are silver and valuable because of the silver content or could be worth even more if one happens to be a rare date."

pre-decimal coins, military items, vintage toys and trains, musical instruments, pocket and wrist watches, oil, watercolour and pastel paintings, pottery, porcelain and glasswares

At the roashow, we see some exceptional pieces of original paintings, artwork that has sat in storage, attics and cellars alike. Treasure Hunters are proud to work on behalf of a number of worldwide collectors and galleries that re-display some amazing artworks to the public.

Scrap gold is expected to be a popular category this week due to soaring gold prices. Tish McCutcheon, a recent customer from Altrincham, who we spoke to, attended a recent event and walked away with £412.87 from a little jewellery box with unwanted and broken jewellery, said "This is great, I had expected maybe £150 but to get over £400 for jewellery I never wear or was broken is amazing."

Other types of items Roadshow experts hope to see include old toys and train sets. Archie Davis, roadshow toy expert spoke about some of the top toys getting great offers. "Old tin windup toys from the late 1800's through the 1960's are in great demand now."

said Davis, "Especially those that are character related. Mickey Mouse, Donald Duck, the Flintstones or any character toys are sought". Basically any toys made before 1965 are wanted. Train sets made by Lionel, American Flyer, Marklin, Hornby and cars by Dinky and Matchbox have the potential to fetch high prices. Davis also stressed, "Toys with boxes and in mint condition bring sensational prices. Most of the toys that come to the Roadshow are not in perfect shape but can still bring good prices from collectors."

When expert Tom Fuller was asked what he enjoyed most about working at the Roadshow, he was quick to answer "Old coins and paper currency. For as long as I can remember I have been fascinated with collecting coins. Once, I found a silver crown that I sold for £300." Tom went on to explain that any U.K. coins made before 1971 are sought after by collectors and some coins made before 1947 are valuable because of the silver content or could be worth even more if one happens to be a rare date. "We help people sort through their coins for unique dates. We buy all types of coins at the Roadshow from halfpennies to crowns, which are valuable from one coin to an entire carload. See you at the roadshow" said Tom.

If you go to the Roadshow, you can cash-in your items for top dollar. Roadshow representatives will be available to purchase your items at the Mercure Whately Hall Hotel, Banbury Cross, Banbury, Oxon, OX16 0AN - Tuesday 12th through Saturday 16th July.

Pupils delight at Olympic visit

PUPILS at Sibford School received an insight into the Olympic Games recently, when they were visited by three-times Great Britain Olympic swimmer, Helen Slatter.

Helen, who is team manager to the British Outdoor Olympics Team, inspired pupils by demonstrating strokes, offering coaching techniques and sharing her experiences of competing at Seoul (1988), Barcelona (1992) and Atlanta (1996).

"My journey to the Olympics started on my 10th birthday when my parents took me to the pool and the lifeguard asked if I could swim 25 metres," she told pupils. "I swam the length and was invited to join the local swimming club, and that was the start of me becoming an Olympic swimmer."

"So, if any of you want to go to the Olympics don't ever give up on that dream."

Helen also shared her hopes that Team GB would come away with a medal in the Open Water Marathon in 2012. "I'm heading off to China in the next few days for the Olympic Trials at the World Swimming Championships in Shanghai," she said. "That's where we'll decide on the top ten to include in the team and I'm really hopeful we have a winner on our hands."

There was an extra special treat for three lucky pupils who were picked out by Helen to be presented with their very own Team GB swimming caps.

Pictured with Helen Slatter are Sibford pupils Antonia Clack, 12, Molly King, 13, and seven-year-old Lara Mills ... all modeling their new Team GB swimming caps.

Heavy rain leads to match being abandoned as a draw

Storm rescues Banbury bowlers

BANBURY'S bowlers took a real battering before heavy rain caused their Division 1 match at Welwyn Garden City to be abandoned as a draw.

Choosing to bat first, Welwyn made the most of a hard, fast pitch, with a club record opening partnership. Jamie Hewitt, the former Oxfordshire all-rounder, and Louis Champion made 280 for the first wicket as the visitors' attack was put to the sword.

Hewitt made an unbeaten 111 off 156 balls, but he was outshone by Champion, who hammered 157 off 183 balls with 19 fours and five sixes.

The only bowlers to escape hefty punishment were seamer Ashley Blanchard and off-spinner Richard West.

With the Welwyn score at 282-2 in the 57th over, heavy rain caused a lengthy delay.

On resumption, Banbury's target became an unlikely 287 from just 37 overs.

Welwyn's seamer Aaron Laraman found more out of the pitch than Banbury's bowlers, and took three wickets.

The visitors had struggled to 60-3 from 16 overs before another heavy storm ended play for the day.

Debbie Pratt

When I started at Gymophobics In January 2011 I was very nervous! I was however made to feel very welcome as the Instructors put you at ease straight away. The staff are always friendly, caring and very supportive, they are always encouraging and give plenty of good advice that helped me keep on track. After 2 re-assessments I have lost 1 stone 7 ½ lb plus an astonishing 27 inches in 20 weeks. I am enjoying it today as much as I did the day I first started and loving my new look.

Clare Campbell

"I used to always feel tired and never had energy, my knee's always hurt from a previous injury and I lacked motivation. I started going to Gymophobics after a lot of persuasion from a friend, gym's were never something I stuck at and always seemed a waste of money. I have now been going approx 4 times a week for 7 months and have never felt so good, my knee's are better, I have lost 18 inches and 2 stones and the gym has been a big contribution to this. Some of the reason I have stuck with this is the gym is a comfortable environment, the staff are supportive and always motivating (which I need!) and I can see great results.

Jill Loveridge

I joined Gymophobics in Feb 2009 and am still currently a member. I've enjoyed it from the day I started, as my programmes are consistently changed every 8- 10 weeks to help keep me keen and motivated. I didn't have lots to lose although I have currently lost 1 stone 8 ½ lb and 25 inches off my body. I am really pleased also because my body fat and Bmi have both reduced and they are now classed as healthy. I attend 3 times a week or even 4 where possible. All the staff have been really helpful and encouraging on every visit and because the atmosphere is so friendly I always look forward to my sessions. I also have to mention the 54321 slimming club as this has really helped me to be disciplined with my eating habits and I'm so happy with my results that I've now started Nordic walking in excess of 5 miles at a time as my fitness has improved that much. I would highly recommend Gymophobics to any lady of any age or size because if I can do it anyone can.
